

Middle : English Language Arts the E and number is the catalog number for the book:

Adjectives and Adverbs With Word E85

- Practice identifying adjectives and adverbs. Create a quiz to see whether your friends can identify adjectives and adverbs

Contractions E86

- Learn about contractions. Create your own Auto Contractor; a device that automatically turns pronoun-verb pairs into contractions.

Crazy Sentences: E91

- Find the nouns, verbs and adjectives in simple sentences. Build your own word sets and use them to have 'crazy sentences' written automatically

Crossword Puzzles E684

- Plan, design and create a crossword puzzle using tables within Word.

Nouns and Verbs E84

- Practice identifying nouns and verbs. Create a quiz to see whether your friends can identify nouns and verbs

Sentence Science E88

- Decompose sentences, identifying and labeling parts of speech. To do this you will need to identify words that work together and their relationships.

Use Adjectives and Adverbs E92

- Learn about adjectives and adverbs and how they are used in sentences.

Vocabulary Database E89

- Construct and use a vocabulary database. You can even record and store word pronunciations.

Word Search Puzzles E685

- Learn to build a word search puzzle.

Analyze Documentaries E54

- Use this graphic organizer to help you analyze documentary films.

Analyze Primary Sources: Documents E52

- Use this graphic organizer to help you analyze primary source texts.

Analyze Primary Sources: Films E53

- Use this graphic organizer to help you analyze feature films.

Analyze Primary Sources: Photos E55

- Use this graphic organizer to help you analyze photographs.

Analyze Textbooks E56

- Learn about the common text features found in text books and identify them using a text of your choice.

Cause and Effect B E30

- Use a graphic organizer to map your thinking about a cause/effect relationship. Optional, open-ended topics are provided

Classification B E34

- Use a graphic organizer to help you classify things. Optional, open-ended topics are provided.

Compare and Contrast B E32

- Use a compare/contrast graphic organizer to distinguish how things are the same and/or different. Optional, open-ended topics are provided.

Create Your Own Graphic Organizers E48

- Learn about tools you can use to create your own graphic organizers and how to select the right type of diagram for your purpose.

Double Entry Learning Logs E45

- Use a Doubly Entry Learning Log to track and reflect upon your learning through a topic of study.

Knowledge Grid E689

- Create a Knowledge Grid; a framework that will help you to record - in an organized manner - information that you gather about a topic.

KWLH Organizer: B E40

- Use a graphic organizer to track your learning and thinking through a topic of study.

Learning Log Reflection E44

- Use a graphic organizer to track and reflect upon your learning through a topic of study.

Multiple Perspectives B E38

- Use a graphic organizer to structure your thinking about multiple perspectives. Optional, open-ended topics are provided.

Sequence B E36

- Use a graphic organizer to sequence events. Optional, open-ended topics are provided.

Summarize B E42

- Use a graphic organizer to structure your thinking about a summary. Optional, open-ended topics are provided.

Story Maps for Fiction E46

- Note the structure of a story and report how it uses the elements of literature.

Story Maps for History E49

- Use a story map graphic organizer to structure a historical event.

Story Maps for Science Experiments E50

- Instead of writing a lab report, use a story map graphic organizer to review an experiment.

The SQ3R Reading Strategy E47

- Use an SQ3R graphic organizer to help you understand and remember what you read.

Two-Column Notes E51

- Structure your thinking using a Two-Column Notes graphic organizer. Adapt the template for organizational structures such as: main idea/details; fact/opinion; cause/effect; prediction/outcome and vocabulary/definition.

Address at the March on Washington E99

- It is 1964 and you are creating a series of articles about the civil rights movement in the United States. Analyze the John Lewis speech 'Address at the March on Washington.'

A Motto for a Character E107

- Learn about characterization. Write a motto for your favorite character and explain why the motto is appropriate. Insert the motto into a text page border.

Book Review E95

- Write an engaging and well structured book review.

Book Talk E94

- Are you reading a novel? Develop a document for recording notes that will help you with book discussions and other exercises.

Civil Rights Act of 1964 E103

- Practice using comprehension strategies when reading a primary source document. Show your understanding by commenting on important issues in the document.

Critical Reading: Persuasion and Politics E96

- Learn about persuasive writing techniques. Analyze a letter to an editor to demonstrate your critical reading skills.

Draw Conclusions: Column Charts E102

- Read and draw conclusions from visual information in a variety of column charts. Explore other charts that could be used to present this information.

Draw Conclusions: Pie Charts E101

- Read and draw conclusions from various pie charts: the school day, popular pets and labor statistics. Try changing the data and making your own charts.

I Have a Dream E98

- Analyze a primary source document from the U.S. civil rights movement; Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s 'I Have A Dream' speech.

Latin Roots and Prefixes E657

- Learn about the Latin / French influence on English then build an etymology demonstrating the Latin origins of words contained in a short paragraph.

Library Map E69

- Learn how the Dewey Decimal System is used by librarians to organize texts. Explore your school library and then map the library shelves.

Literary Elements: Conflict E112

- Use a series of photographs to think and learn about internal and external conflict. Analyze the major conflicts in a novel of your choice.

Literature Review Game Show E97

- Draw upon your knowledge of a book to create your own Jeopardy-style game.

Perform a Story E110

- Choose a text and use it to prepare a master script and individual scripts for a Reader's Theater performance.

Point of View Table E109

- Learn about characterization by exploring the characters' different opinions and views of each other in a book.

Read a Book, Take a Closer Look E93

- After reading a book discuss and/or write about the book. Questions will prompt your consideration of characterization, setting, plot, and theme.

Read About Jet Propulsion E104

- Read about jet propulsion. To practice your comprehension skills, find the most important word and write a paraphrase and summary.

Read About the Planet Venus E105

- Read about the planet Venus. To practice your comprehension skills, identify important words, write a title, and use contrasting type to create visual interest.

Read About Weather E106

- Read about weather. To practice your comprehension skills, highlight keywords, type a title and main headings and take notes.

Reader's Theater E111

- Choose a text and use it to prepare a master script and individual scripts for a Reader's Theater performance.

Think Aloud E108

- Respond to a selection of text by inserting 'think aloud' comments into an interest graph. You can use a book you are reading or use the text provided from 'A Christmas Carol' by Charles Dickens.

Word Brainteasers E65

- Solving word brainteasers can improve your thinking skills. Try these brainteasers and then create your own.

Debate Preparation E121

- Learn about debates and how they are organized. Use templates to prepare your individual and team notes.

Reader's Theater E111

- Choose a text and use it to prepare a master script and individual scripts for a Reader's Theater performance.

Teleprompter News Report E122

- Create a teleprompter machine that automatically scrolls text. Write a news report and then present it using your teleprompter.

Write a Campaign Speech E643

- Learn about political rhetoric and then apply this knowledge to prepare a campaign speech.

A News Story E151

- Plan, write and publish a newspaper report about an event or issue of interest. Learn about report structure and to use an appropriate writing style.

Assess Expository Essays A E15

- Use a Four Point Expository Scoring Guide to self-assess your essay writing. The guide features seven writing traits: ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, conventions and format.

Assess Expository Essays B E16

- Use a simple Four Point Expository Scoring Guide to self-assess your essay writing.
- Assess Expository Essays C E18
- Use a Five Point Expository Scoring Guide to self-assess your essay writing. The guide features seven writing traits: ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, conventions and format.
- Assess Expository Essays D (Weighted) E19
- Use a Weighted Four Point Expository Scoring Guide to self-assess your essay writing.
- Assess Persuasive Essays A E20
- Use a Four Point Expository Scoring Guide to self-assess your persuasive essay writing. The guide features seven writing traits: ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, conventions, and format.
- Assess Persuasive Essays B E21
- Use a Simple Four Point Persuasive Scoring Guide to self-assess your persuasive essay writing. The guide features five writing traits: ideas, organization, style, conventions, and format.
- Assess Persuasive Essays C E22
- Use a Five Point Persuasive Scoring Guide to self-assess your persuasive essay writing. The guide features seven writing traits: ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, conventions, and format.
- Assess Research Papers E17
- Use a Four Point Research Scoring Guide to self-assess your research paper. The guide features seven writing traits: ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, conventions and format.
- Cause and Effect Organization E147
- Learn about cause and effect organization, pose cause and effect questions and plan an expository paragraph that explains the cause and the effect or result of something that has happened.
- Choose Your Own Adventure E161
- Use a writing prompt to create an interactive 'choose your own adventure' story.
- Constellation Myths E167
- Draw your own constellation and then write a story to accompany it based on something that is familiar or important to you.
- Design Acronym Stationery E153
- Learn about acronyms. Create an acronym and use it to make personal stationery.
- Document Layout and Design E71
- Create an attractive information product (e.g. pamphlet, poster, booklet, or newspaper) that effectively communicates your message to your target audience.
- Fact and Fiction E675
- Why choose between fact or fiction? Research a topic and write a fictional story that includes factual information.
- First Waka, Then Haiku E142
- Before haiku, Japanese men and women wrote waka. Discover the forms of this poetry by writing and illustrating your own waka and haiku poems.
- Free-Write: Environmentally Speaking E132
- Let your thoughts flow as you respond to questions about environmental issues from the perspective of an animal. Keep the valuable parts of your writing to produce a polished piece of writing.
- Free-Write: That's Entertainment E131
- Let your thoughts flow as you quickly respond to a series of questions about popular entertainment and your opinions and preferences. Keep the valuable parts of your writing to produce a polished piece of writing.
- Free-Write: Who Am I? E128
- Let your thoughts flow as you quickly respond to a series of questions about yourself. Keep the valuable parts of your writing to produce a polished piece of writing.
- Friendly Letter E134

- A friendly letter can be used to develop a relationship with a person by sharing experiences, ideas and information. Write your own friendly letter.

Happy Cinquain To You E136

- Write and present a cinquain poem paying attention to word choice and graphic design.

Keypals E681

- Learn about keypals - penpals with whom you regularly communicate through email. Start exchanging information with a keypal anywhere in the world.

Mad Libs E159

- Learn about nouns, verbs, adverbs, adjectives and other parts of speech as you create your own 'Mad Libs.'

Metaphors for the Mind E137

- Learn about metaphors and then create simple, extended, and visual metaphors.

Mini Book E135

- Create a mini book. The template will help you to print and collate the pages to form the book.

More Extended Metaphors E139

- Read extended metaphors from English poetry, write your own metaphor and then design a visual metaphor using a combination of WordArt and Clip Art.

Outliner E125

- An outline helps you to organize and structure your thoughts. Use this outliner to include and remove structure and content notes as you work on your writing.

Pen Pal First Letter .E133

- Plan and write a letter to a new pen pal. Try to start a friendship by sharing your background, experiences and ideas

Plot the Plot E127

- Plot your level of excitement at various stages of a story. Use your chart to explore techniques of plot development. Consider how you can use these strategies when writing your own stories.

Poetry: An Affective Slide Show E164

- Choose a photograph to use as a stimulus and then write a non-rhyming free verse poem. Use the photo to present your poem in an attractive slide show.

Poetry in Motion E692

- Learn to use multimedia to design a personal interpretation of a poem in PowerPoint.

Poetry: Use Powerful Words E649

- Choose a photograph from the 'Space' collection and use it to stimulate your thinking as you construct a powerful poem. Compose your poem by dragging word cards onto the photograph.

Poetry: Wonder Thing E130

- Consider the vital role that water plays in the world and to organize your thoughts before sharing them in poetic form.

Poetry: Write a BioPoem E687

- Create a BioPoem based on yourself, a member of your family, a famous / historical person, or a literary character.

Retell a Fairy Tale E144

- Retell a well-known fairy tale repeating the basic plot using an ABC pattern. Focus on sentence fluency and format.

Shape Your Words E149

- Learn about word choice, descriptiveness and design. Use the first letter of your name as the central design element in a poster about yourself.

Story Science E493

- Create a picture storybook to explain a science concept to a younger student.

The Battle of Agincourt E145

- Learn about the Battle of Agincourt, ask cause and effect questions, and answer one using an expository structure. Use a revision guide to self-evaluate and improve your writing.

Word Choice: Figurative Language E154

- Learn about word choice and figurative language. Write an original simile, use it in an expository paragraph and to design a page border.

Word Choice: Synonyms E162

- Find synonyms for descriptive words in your writing and then make your final word choices.

Word Choice: Vowel Play E166

- Write a descriptive paragraph then replace all the words that contain a particular vowel sound - the foul vowel.

Write about the Black Plague E146

- Learn about cause and effect relationships. Read about the economic results of the European Black Plague and write six cause and effect questions about this topic. Use one to draft a first person account of the economic changes.

Write a Campaign Speech E643

- Learn about political rhetoric and then apply this knowledge to prepare a campaign speech

Write an Argumentative Essay E126

- Learn about persuasive writing, and in particular, the structure of an argumentative essay. Use the template to help you create a persuasive piece of writing.

Write an Explanation E123

- Learn to structure an effective explanation.

Write an Information Report E129

- Learn about the purpose and structure of Information Reports and consider the appropriate use of language and writing style. Write your own report.

Write an Online Book Review E678

- Learn about the standards of review writing, analyze online book reviews and then post your own book review.

Write a Personal Response Page E152

- Respond to a book you have recently read showing a personal connection. In publishing your response, learn about and apply effective page design features.

Write a Story Narrative E124

- Explore the various parts of a story: the orientation, complication, climax and resolution, and then write a well-structured story.

Writing to the Audience E157

- Learn to use the correct 'level of language' when writing about the same subject to two different audiences